QUEEN'S Story:

Queenie was born in 2006.

She is one of our first orphans to come to the orphanage. When Tom first saw Queenie, she was wearing someone's dirty dress that didn't fit, chewing on a chicken bone. It was a sad sight, but she had a sparkle in her eyes that said she was going places one day.

Queenie grew as one of the older sisters, loving all the little ones who were to come into the orphanage. They were all raised as siblings, with Tom and Amy as their "Mommy and Daddy". Of course, she has Aunts & Uncles in the Village as well, which she sees and stays with on a regular basis. Such a large family for Queenie.

In their many Sunday School Classes, they learned about Jesus, and Queenie accepted the Lord as her Savior. She was baptized by her Daddy, Tom. What a wonderful experience. She wanted to serve the Lord in any way that she could!

Queen, and Theresa were the first girls to go to boarding school. It was new, scary, and exciting. Coming home from the first term telling everyone what it was like, gave the next children an incentive to work harder on their grades so they could go too!

Queenie's baptism

In January, Queen will be in 12th grade, the last year of high school. She is making decisions of what her career will be.

She may want to be an optometrist, or perhaps a doctor to help others. This year will be her deciding time: To go to a trade school, or to the University. Either way, she is working very hard on her grades to be accepted in the school of her choice.

Your donations are helping her to further her education to be the best that she can be to be a blessing to others.

Thank you for your prayers and support
